

THE LOST CHILDREN OF BABYLON – MEDITATION LYRICS relax, meditation, relax, hesitation enter in to a holy place by a guiding light fall on my face if i die tonight heaven knows my fate because i'm taking flight now break the locks of the gates so enter in cleanse me from sin and look within heal me again rising above the system breaking the chains and counting the cost everything to gain but i count it all as loss, i've been through h-ll and back and you can tell because of the scars

i've been through h-ll and back and you can tell because of the scars now this is my power my strength and my fight, you offer me the world but it cost me my life i said that this is my power my strength and my fight, offer me the wold but it cost me my life inside i find a light that shines take time to unwind and open your mind i said inside i find a light that shines take time to unwind and open your mind in your presence there is no hesitation in the secret place with you oh lord sweet consecration how can i begin to show my adoration?

in the sweet hour of prayer of prayer and meditation you know i feel a sweet sensation when i feel a manifestation by grace through faith god has sealed my fate hesitate don't wait lets enter the gates, now pray seek the things of above, i've seen you hate can i see you love? spirit descending with wings like a dove speaking of things that you know not of rising above the system breaking the chains and counting the cost everything to gain but i count it all as loss, i've been through h-ll and back and you can tell because of the scars

i've been through h-ll and back and you can tell because of the scars
i said that this is my power my strength and my fight, offer me the world but it cost me my life inside i find a light that shines take time to unwind and open your mind

in the secret place with you oh lord sweet consecration
how can i begin to show my adoration?

enter a state of nirvana, leaving this place that's what im'a do open your mind and press on through this is the spirit it do what it do like an ancient fire flame for a few born again so all things are new an ancient fire flame for a few born again so all things are new enter a state of nirvana, leaving this place that's what im'a do
open your mind and press on through this is the spirit it do what it do

in the secret place with you oh lord sweet consecration
how can i begin to show my adoration?
in your presence there is no hesitation
in the secret place with you oh lord sweet consecration
how can i begin to show my adoration?
